Our School . . .

... And Home

THIS is the 1940 Annual of the Ithaca High School, Ithaca, New York. Volume Twenty-six was published by the 1940 Annual Board of which Patricia Angell was Editor-in-Chief; Robert Wolf, General Manager; Annabelle Slater, Art Editor; and John Lloyd, Business Manager.

Early
Career

... In school and at home with Mother and Dad ...

Dedication

THE most important influences of our young life are our homes and our schools. We are proud of our Alma Mater where we work and play. We are grateful to our teachers who are forever broadening our ideals and making our lives complete, but we always return to our homes when we seek sincere love and guidance.

And so, Mother and Dad, we hereby dedicate this book to you. In doing this we shall try to present a full and complete picture of our school life, both our activities in school and our many interests outside which hold our attention.

On the March

Our School

Mother and Dad, now that the time of parting is upon us, we realize the true feeling we hold for our school. We shall miss those familiar faces we have seen in the halls so often.

Our school — its splendid Administration, thoughtful Guidance Counselors, helpful teachers — has contributed to our assurance of future successes.

Our Teachers

We devote this section to our teachers, those understanding people who have helped us in so many ways. You will see their pictures, and also, accounts of the colleges from which they received their degrees. You probably have already met them, but our Annual may help you to know them better. We shall remember them, always.

Smiling Through

Our Seniors

Then come our proud seniors. They gloat over their achievements. They have done their work well and deserve the honor that is given them.

And now, come with us and see just how busy we have been . . .

At Long Last

Our Year

This section means most to us. Here are pictures of the activities in which we partook, and the sports we enjoyed. We fought hard in our games whether we won or lost, and a little rain didn't stop us. A flash of the events which have kept us so busy all these months will pass in revue.

Going Home

Our Year

SEPT.

6. Bells, bells, bells.
7. "Sir, what is the title of our new textbooks?"
18. "Did you see the murals in the cafeteria? Neat, aren't they?" no!

OCT.

6. The lights twinkled, and we beat Johnson City.
6. Holiday for all but our dear teachers.
10. Feeling low? The Doc advised "Three Pills in a Bottle."
12. "Columbus sailed the ocean blue."
14. Chalk one up for our side—we beat Olean.
21. The train ride to White Plains was fun—even though "The Rains Came."
28. Ithaca High whipped Auburn.

NOV.

5. "We can be thankful for our American school system"—American Education Week.
11. Armistice Day—"Did you sell poppies or march in the parade?"
18. "Little Red" cut in on Union Endicott.
22. Thanksgiving concert.
23. Thanksgiving recess. "It couldn't have come at a better time."
25. Pep rally before Elmira game didn't do much good.
27. "How big did you say your turkey was?"

DEC.

1. 50 years of football celebrated at Congressional dance.
12. Who painted the Christmas Mural on the front window?
15. Latest styles, girls, rings on fingers, bells on toes.
18. Christmas recital.
19. Christmas Choral Concert.
20. "A chocolate Santa Claus.—Isn't it just too cute!"
21. "Santa Claus—is Coming to Town."

AN.

4. "Christmas has come and gone!"
8. "Must have put too much wax on my skiis."
2. Regents—"Just wait until I'm governor!"
9. "... See if I bring her any more apples!"
1. "Not much longer here to stay, for in a month or two—"

EB.

4. "Won't you be my valentine?"
1. Leap Year—Ladies, chose their men for the Legislative Ball.
2. "There was an old (cherry) tree in the orchard"—Washington's Birthday.
3. We play Auburn for "Ronnie" Garside.

AR.

1. Pro-con Congress-Legislative Debate.
2. "Good Friday"—in more than one day.
5. Red "A" we wore meant subscription to the Annual.

PR.

1. "Did you get fooled too?"
8. "Oh, teacher! All that for tonight?"
2. Band and Orchestra Spring Concert.
6. "What a Life"—Spring play.
0. Cafeteria—"I always did like music with my lunch."

AY

1. "May Day—and stuff".
0. Senior Class Ball—"We were there."
7. Glee and Choral Clubs' Concert.
0. Memorial Day.

JUNE

3. "Will you sign my Annual?"
5. "Backward or Backward, time in thy flight—(tell me one one thing that I studied last night)."
7. Regents "Oh, it just can't be!"
4. "Ha, Ha, Ha, Wouldn't have missed it for anything! Class Day.
5. Commencement—"Too good to be true, or is it?"

EPT.-JUNE "We did have fun—hope you did too!"

Board of Education

Mother and Dad, here is our Board of Education. It is our School Board which fulfills our many needs. Heretofore they probably have been only names in the newspaper, but here is an opportunity for you to meet them.

The President of the Board is Mr. G. Louis Cook. Superintendent of Schools, Claude L. Kulp is shown here with his son, Bob; Dr. Helen D. Bull with her son, Chris, and daughter, Alice; Mr. Ralph W. Mungle and Don; Mr. E. Curry Weatherby. Others on the Board are Mrs. Mamie C. Boochever, Mr. Ernest H. Miller, Mr. Clyde B. Moore, Mr. Raymond F. Sheffield, and Mr. Michael J. Leary.

High School Office? Yes, Dad, right down the main hall and through those wide doors. Miss Crooks, office secretary, can tell you whether Mr. Bliss, our Principal, will see you now. While we are here, we might as well tell you something about the office staff.

Mr. Frank R. Bliss, received his B.S. degree at the New York State College for Teachers. Vice-Principal is Mr. E. A. LaFortune who renders invaluable service to Mr. Bliss. Assistant to Mr. Bliss, also, is Miss Theresa West. Miss West attended Vassar where she received an A. B. degree. She won her B.S. degree at Cornell University. Miss West has the important task of recording girls attendance. Mr. LaFortune takes an account of the boys attendance.

Miss Eleanor Crooks is new to our school this year. She graduated from Elmira Southside High School and Elmira College. Assistant secretary, Miss Doris Terpening, graduated from Ithaca High School.

Farnsworth, Dixon, Warren, Cotner, LaFortune, Laubenstein.

Guidance

These are our guidance counselors, who have given us so much help in planning our future, for our life in school and after our graduation.

The department is under the able direction of Mr. E. A. LaFortune. Mr. LaFortune earned his B.S. degree at the University of Minnesota. He was awarded his M.A. degree at Columbia University. Mr. LaFortune also studied at Cornell.

Mrs. Cotner is the counselor for our domineering seniors. Those wayward Juniors are given advice by Mr. Laubenstein. Miss Warren and Mr. Farnsworth keep those green freshmen and saucy sophomores under control. Mr. C. R. Dixon is our consultant on vocational problems.

Placement Bureau

There is a great deal to be said for Placement Bureau. The Bureau's record of placements this year was greatly increased in proportion to last year's record. At this bureau, students wishing to find jobs are provided with a list of possibilities. We are grateful to Mr. Farnsworth for his untiring efforts in making this bureau a success.

Football

Now we bring you the activities which bring health, action, and happiness to our student body. We are speaking at present of the sports activities of the school, and, to narrow it down more, we are speaking specifically of the main sport of the year, football.

The practice season started the first of September, with many of the positions filled with question marks. Coach Pierce lost his entire backfield and most of his linemen of the previous year.

These losses were offset, however, by the presence of co-captains Ronnie Garside and Fred Terry, Mike Nicholas, Al Rubens, Harry Carey, Jack Allen, Ray Tyler, Bob Nobles, Ray Daniels, Howard Washington, Joe Capalongo, and Joe Delibero. Coach Pierce's hopes were dashed upon the rocks when his stellar guard, Garside, suffered a freak injury to his left leg which eliminated him for the season.

With the remains that were salvaged from the losses, Coach Pierce was able to build a successful team which thoroughly outplayed a good Johnson City team under lights in its first engagement. Returning home the next week-end, the team won a hard fought, but well deserved battle from Olean. The next week-end the gridders journeyed to White Plains and thoroughly trounced a previously undefeated championship team which had a ten game winning streak.

Ithaca again defeated Auburn, thereby adding another win to its unbroken string of victories over its Prison City rivals. The next week the team journeyed to Rome where it suffered one of those "off day" defeats by losing a close fought battle in the closing seconds. Redeeming itself completely the next time out, Ithaca defeated its arch rival, Union-Endicott, through the yeoman work of Mike Nicholas, Ray Tyler, and Howard Washington. Entering its final game of the season, the athletes journeyed to Elmira where their injury-riddled line-up was outplayed to lose to a stronger and bigger team.

So with the season complete the gridders prepared to endure the rigor of a trip around the banquet circuit. They all came through in fine shape and began to prepare themselves to go indoors and tackle the basketball schedule.

Basketball

Our athletes entered upon the basketball season with vim and determination. Handicapped by the lack of height and the loss of last year's basketeers, they worked hard for Coach Pierce.

With few practice sessions behind them, the players started the season. They fought many close battles which a few minutes more of playing time might have turned in their favor. They never stopped fighting and several times they lost only by a one point margin.

Co-captain Joe Delibero ranked high up in the league high scores with his consistantly good showings. The work of Jack Hart, Fred Alexander, Jimmy Ruane, Co-captain Don Casano, and others added their capable offerings to the encounters.

Typical in spirit and fight for the 1940 team was the Auburn game in benefit of Ronnie Garside. It went into an over time period with the score tied at 34 all. But out of the maze of players streaked Howard Washington, reserve forward, headed for the Auburn basket. He dribbled the whole length of the floor and dropped a lay up shot which clicked the game for Ithaca, 36-34.

This game illustrates only one of the many close, hard fought battles that the athletes waged. Sometimes they came out on top, sometimes they didn't, but they always kept their fighting spirit and good sportsmanship.

Hockey

The hockey team, dear parents, is indeed our most ill-fated group of athletes. In spite of the continuous efforts of Coach Kingsbury, the team was able to schedule only two games, both with Clinton High School. Because of the lack of good consistent practice facilities, the team was not able to practice regularly enough to knit a well co-ordinated combination. However, Captain Wilfie Kalman and his team mates, by making up in faith and spirit what they lacked in experience and teamwork, managed to hold the strong Clinton outfit to 7-2 and 4-1 scores. They also played both of these games away from home, which added to the difficulty of the task.

At one of its meetings in February, the Athletic Council seriously discussed the hockey situation. They covered all the angles and finally drew a conclusion. This conclusion was that the hockey team was to be discontinued after the 1939-40 season. The reasons for this were: (1) difficulty in scheduling games, and (2) undependable ice and weather conditions.

In the place of the now disbanded hockey team the school will sponsor intramural hockey. This will enable the athlete to get more competition and encourage more interest in hockey.

As the ice melted, athletes of the last Ithaca High School Hockey team turned to the warm weather sports, which come with spring.

Baseball

After their strenuous winter schedule in basketball, Coach Pierce's numerous athletes turned their attention, as is a young man's fancy in the spring, to other things, namely baseball. Before the spring thaws, and with only a week's rest from basketball season, Coach Pierce called out his prospective pitchers and catchers for practice on March 18.

With such veterans as Earl Brown, Fred Terry, Bill Wager, Ray Daniels, Joe Reed, Richard Brown, Jack Hart, Al Rubens, and Joe DeLibero returning, the team shaped up fairly well. Practically this same group of athletes won three and lost five games last year. With their added experience they were able to give a good showing this year.

Because of scholastic difficulties, graduation of star players the previous June, and the trouble of scheduling games, the team experienced a rather lean year in 1939. But with so many veterans returning and the chances of a larger schedule, baseball had a banner year again. Operating in the Southern Tier League, the players competed against such teams as Binghamton Central, Binghamton North, Union-Endicott, and Johnson City.

Track

Another group of our many athletes took advantage of the spring weather and began preparing for the track season. Their work was definitely cut out for them. The remains of last years all-conquering squad were practically nil. Twelve of the star performers, who succeeded in winning every meet they entered, graduated last June, leaving few experienced performers.

Because of this great loss we were inclined to agree with Coach Joe Tatascore when he said: "Prospects for the 1940 edition of the Little Red track squad are very poor."

Let us now show you just who was back to defend the honor of I.H.S. on the cinder path this spring. Captain Bob Covert continued as a 440 man. Miller Scott took care of the high jump. Burl Kimple remained as a hurdler, Dick Halstead and Dick O'Brien in the 880, and Burchard Steele in the pole vault.

These stalwarts carried our school colors on to victory as have the long line of continually unbeaten Ithaca track teams of the past. But in order to do this large feat, they had to make their good showings against Elmira, Corning North, Corning Free Academy, and their numerous opponents in the Syracuse Interscholastic meet and the State Sectional meet held at Schoellkopf Field.

Tennis

Our balmy spring weather brought forth the members of one of the most consistent winning teams in our sports lineup, the tennis team. Sporting several individual team champions in the past, the team has won a string of forty-two matches while losing one. At various times Ken Jolly, Bud Boochever, and Ned Pearson, have carried the Red and Gold colors to victory.

Last year, with a group of veterans returning, the team again showed a good percentage of wins. It won seven and lost only one tough match.

This year, however, the team presented a different picture. The new coach, Robert Kingsbury, faced a difficult situation. Bill Rinkcas was the only letterman returning. This did not seem too promising, but the coach and players worked hard and made a good showing.

A kill!

Watchful eyes.

Back row: Kimble, Cleveland, Holton, Weatherby, Scoville, Lloyd, Claassen, Jenkins, Stanway, Day, Petrillose.

Front row: Wilkins, Rogalsky, Slade, Randolph, Rinkcas, Heinicke, Tewey.

Golf

For the five years it has been in existence, the Red and Gold golf team has had two individual champions in Johnny Vido, and Ken Reed, and has won three team championships. Last year, however, the team did not fare as well, winning four and losing three.

As the team began to get its shooting eye sharpened on the indoor practice range in the middle of March, Coach Meyn had a chance to look over his prospects. These prospects were promising too. With letterman Bob Hart, Don Drier, Jerry Jordan, Wilfie Kalman, and Harry Szabo returning, a well-balanced and experienced squad was assured.

As soon as the courses were in shape to be played on, the golfers began practicing diligently. They improved considerably over their skill of last year. Competing against such stellar teams as Union-Endicott, Norwich, the Binghamton schools, Cooperstown, Owego, and Corning, the team made a creditable showing. Our swinging athletes concluded their difficult schedule in the State Sectionals held at Union-Endicott early in June.

Athletic Council

Before going into a discussion of the various sports our school sponsors, we should perhaps explain the work of the governing board of all our sports activities, the Athletic Council. In the first place, the Council is composed of the coaches of the sports, along with our principal, the business manager of the Athletics, the secretary, the director of physical education, and selected members of the faculty. These people carry on the business of the council, which includes the complete handling of the athletic revenues, deciding what policies are to be followed in the carrying out of our sport activities, the approving of schedules made by the athletic director, and the approving of the selection of lettermen, captains, and managers. As a member of the New York State Public School Athletic Association, the board maintains the friendly relations with other schools.

The Chairman of the council, Clarence R. Dixon, is also the Business Manager of Athletics. Assisted by Miss Catherine A. Baber, secretary, Mr. Dixon carries on all correspondence for the Council, besides presiding over its monthly meetings.

The coaches, who are members of the Council, are headed by the Athletic Director, Edward I. Pierce. Mr. Pierce is kept busy throughout the year coaching football, basketball, and baseball.

Joseph Tatascore, the able track coach and gym teacher, Leonard Buyse, assistant football coach, Albert Meyn, veteran golf mentor, and Robert Kingsbury, the new hockey and tennis instructor, complete the representation of coaches on the council.

The non-coaching members of the council are Edgar E. Bredbenner, director of physical education; F. R. Bliss, principal of the school; Oliver M. York, who acts as treasurer; and A. H. Grommon, English instructor.

The careful and efficient work of this competent group enables the student body to have a chance to enjoy and participate in our well-rounded program of sports.

General Council

"All in favor say aye——." This, Mother and Dad, is what you would have heard all this past year, had you attended General Council meetings.

Joe Driscoll, student chairman, presided over these mass meetings of presidents and treasurers of the various school clubs. Ariel Van Horn, secretary of the Council, took down the Council approvals and the many barbs given out during the course of the meetings. If ever you wanted to find out how much any club had in its treasury, all you had to do was to see Miss Asenath Van Buren, treasurer of the Council. She always had the answer.

Ellis Bradford, Ariel Van Horn, Edith Kelsey, and Joe Driscoll went over to Elmira early last fall and discussed many extra-curricular activities with representatives of Southern-Tier schools. Ellis and Joe, along with many of the other delegates from other schools, spoke on school morale and extra-curricular activities.

Officers of the clubs must ask permission of General Council before any function whatsoever is allowed. Many requests were made much more interesting, by being cleverly presented.

Among the many suggestions given at the Council was the proposal of a survey committee. This committee's duties were to organize activities which would promote interest in the problems of youth today. Ruth Cosline, Edith Kelsey, and Les Watson were on the committee. This committee was established as a basis for future organizations that will have these aims.

The "aye's" have it.

Wolf, Lloyd, Pesoli, Perry, Grommon

Long before Thanksgiving recess, by the click of the typewriter and the scramble to see whose picture was whose and where it fitted, we realized that the Annual Board was in session. Yes, there we were ready for a long winter's work.

No sooner was Pat Angell elected Editor-in-Chief, and Bob Wolf, General Manager, than Mr. Grommon, the faculty adviser, suggested that they choose their assistants. Jean Slaughter was selected as Senior Associate Editor; and Marion Slater, as Junior Associate Editor; Bob Kenerson was our well informed Sports Editor. These four wrote about the many clubs and organizations in our school. They procured from our numerous seniors the particulars concerning their activities. We never realized before how energetic our seniors really had been. This was only the beginning of the editors' undertakings though, for they soon found many trivialities which went into editing a year book that here-to-fore had not met the eye.

The book would have gotten nowhere without Bob Wolf, who was assisted by Henry Perry and Peter Pesoli. They contributed much. The seniors and faculty members were steadily hounded to have their pictures taken. By the abundance of pictures we think the boys succeeded. If a sudden flash of light was seen, we were not surprised, for we knew that it was Mr. Tompkins, Bob and his staff seeking candid shots of our school life. Never before had such an interest been taken in the common man.

Remember the beautiful posters that were in the halls just before Easter? When we saw them we knew that our very capable Art Editor, Annabelle Slater and her assistant, John Krist, were on the job. We owe the uniqueness of our cover to John. The sectional profiles were designed by Annabelle. Annabelle and John worked along with Bob and his crew in the arranging and mounting of all pictures. This we had anticipated would be a long, hard task, and it was.

School Annual Staff

Jack Lloyd, the Business Manager, did remarkable work in securing ads from our merchants. At an early date he dug in and soon had exceeded any previous records for selling advertising space.

Time grew short and everything had to be typed. Grace Heckman, secretary and head typist, aided by Barbara Sullivan and Marjory Wilson now started to work. It was their duty to see that everything was typed perfectly. Not even a comma could be out of place. These girls worked untiringly, so let's give credit where it is due.

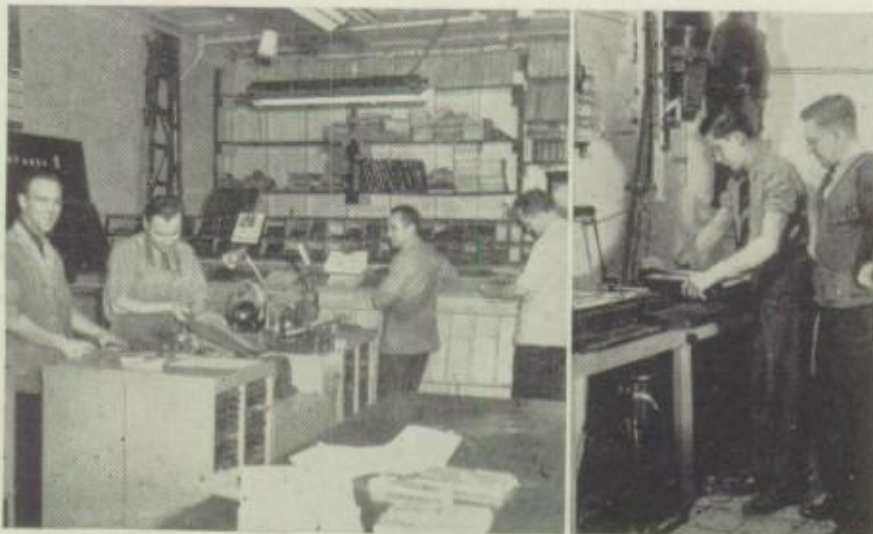

Then came the time to prepare the "dummy." This was great fun for Pat and Bob. Everything had to be organized in the exact form that it appears now. Clubs had to be in perfect order and pictures had to have captions. The "dummy" was sent away and in return we received a proof copy. The editorial staff then had to read this and correct any mistakes.

The Annual Board could have worked for years on end and would have gotten nowhere with the sale had it not been for the home room representatives whom Jack Lloyd chose. They had the responsibility of making sales talks in their rooms for they had to sell the Annual.

The work was done! The staff now took a rest. We looked forward with breathless expectation to the Publications Get-together. It was there that we really celebrated the success of the Annual.

Preparing to engrave our "Annual" pictures.

Half an "em".

Who snapped the picture?

Legislative

Legislative, the girls debating club, each year holds many successful enterprises and this year was no exception. Their yearly debate with Congress on March 22, the club of boys who agree to disagree, was an anticipated function. Although Legislative lost to Congress, Norah Johnstone-Wallace won the debate prize and Monna Heath captured Honorable Mention. Their spring formal dance on February 21, holding Leap Year the theme this year, was a leaping success.

At every meeting a debate is put on by members. Prominent among these were disputes concerning mercy killing and the international situation. At one of the meetings Mr. Grommon, teacher of Public Speaking, gave the girls some pointers on a good speaker. He also gave some points on judging a good speaker.

This club is under the leadership of Monna Heath, president; Carolyn Howe, vice-president; Francis Ward, secretary; Edith Kelsey, treasurer; Laura Mignardi, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Watkins, faculty adviser.

Perhaps the most renowned of these was the Congressional Ball staged this year in the form of a football field to commemorate fifty years of football in Ithaca High School.

The Congress-Faculty Basketball game is always a grueling contest and was very much so this year. Congress fought hard for their first victory in five years. Unique among Congress activities were the initiations. There was the traditional paddle and unusual stunts. Ma Finestone was the chief torturer.

Mr. Fredrick Stutz was the adviser for Congress.

The Tattler

The Tattler editors, Mother and Dad, have been proud of the fact that their paper has been "of the students, by the students, and for the students." Volume II of the Tattler, official newspaper of the school, used various methods to improve the paper this year.

Polls were conducted to determine the attitude of the students toward the government becoming entangled in foreign countries. The opinions of the students on school affairs were brought before the Tattler readers. Subscriptions were sold to offer patrons more convenience and a lower total price. A folder to keep the papers was put into use. A supplementary issue of outstanding literary work by the pupils was published.

All of this work was ably planned and directed by Max Finestone, the editor-in-chief. The editor was capably assisted by three competent associate editors: Seymour Kassman, Ellis Bradford, and Marjorie Page. Max Barra and Genevieve Cosentini, as business manager and circulation manager respectively, combined to issue large quantities of efficiently operated sales. A staff of officers has given the Tattler one of its best and most successful years.

Mr. Harry W. Porter, Mrs. J. Baldwin and Mr. A. H. Grommon are the advisers for the publication.

Dramatic Club

Everyone interested in "theater," tries to get in the Dramatic Club. Lucky is he who is accepted. Not only does he have fun behind the scenes, but he can live in a dream that he will some day be (if Miss Murphree, the club's adviser, assents) a leading man.

The senior play this year was Overtones. Very different. It had an all girl cast: Joan Och, Mary McCurdy, Harriet, and other self. Norah John-Wallace presented the production. Overtones was a clever production of entertainment.

A second play that went with a big hand, was Three Pills in a Bottle.

A large cast, consisted of Ann Molleson, Mary Louise Hooper, Abbott, Dick Calistri, Ted Hooper, Jean Mion, Jack Hobbes, and Marjehne Andrae. Finally, to climax a brilliant season, the club presented What a Life, Clifford Goldsmith's comic portrayal of high school life. Bill Carey, the daring Henry Aldrich; Mr. Grommon, Principal; Marjorie Page, the attractive nurse; Dick Dickson, George Bigelow; and Pat Landon all contributed to its success. This play marked a new production, for the cast consisted of both faculty and students.

The officers of the club were Elwood Mathers, president, Ellis Bradford, vice president, Barbara Sullivan, secretary, and Lucy MacGachen, treasurer.

Der Deutsche Verein

"Das ist richtig," the members of Der Deutsche Verein each year are gaining more knowledge of Germans and Germany. The meetings have been successful. Interesting discussions were held concerning the German people and their customs. The members exercised their use of the language by singing old German folk songs.

This year Der Deutsche Verein had a special table in the cafeteria. The members met one noon a week at this table. Everyone had to speak in German. The plan worked out well. The actual speaking gave valuable experience for the students who were enthusiastic about the language. Many fine, and we might add, many orations were the results.

Mr. Laubenstein, the faculty adviser, led the club through an active year. The officers of Der Deutsche Verein were Bill Holtkamp, president; Seymour Kassman, vice-president; Chris Bull, secretary; and Dick Claassen, treasurer.

Ithetaeria

"Her fame keep ever bright," say the members of Ithetaeria, our honor Latin club. An average of "1" enabled our members to enter through the portals of Ithetaeria.

The lives of the ancient Greeks and Romans were studied and various slides and movies on that subject were shown. A few of our more argumentative members debated on Caesar's ability in warfare and writings versus Cicero's ableness. No decision was reached, but we did have a lot of no. Miss Florence Williamson, faculty adviser, gave a brief talk on the influence of Roman and Greek Architecture on the "World of Tomorrow" and showed us pictures of many of the buildings which carried out this influence.

Able presided over by Jerry Jordan and with Henry Perry, vice-president; Dorothy Hardenburg, secretary and Kay Moore, treasurer; we had many good times this year.

Ski Club

The lengthy, cold, and snowy winter was made to order for the sports loving members of the Ski Club. With constantly good skiing conditions throughout most of the winter from early December to late March, the members succeeded in spending many days gliding over the hills and competing in various meets around this section of the country. Some even succeeded in acquiring rather pink faces from over-exposure to the wind and sun. But this just showed their enthusiasm for the sport.

The club was ably run by Jack Lloyd as president, and Phil Bond as secretary-treasurer. In this, its fourth year, the club experienced one of its most successful seasons. Oswald H. Laubenstein still continued in the capacity of adviser.

The increased interest in skiing in and around Ithaca has brought out many good skiers, among which, we are proud to say, our skiers are among the leaders. Next year we should do even better.

ye iss kiddi boom——!"

No, that's not Pig Latin, nor Greek, it's not even Latin. That's what you would have heard had you gone to any of the football or basketball games this past fall and winter.

Captained by Marian Mahool, and Donny Gregg, this year's cheerleaders really "whooped" it up. Besides Marian and Don, Gladys Jolly, Dick Claassen, Serena Engdahl, Pat Landon, Gennie Cosentini, Seymour Kassman, and Barbara Luce helped to bring out the old "yell" in us.

This year, the cheerleaders sponsored a "pep" rally and "bon fire" the night before the Elmira game. The weather was chilly, but the spirit was fiery. A straw and woolen Elmiran was burned in the fire, only figuratively. All the "yells" were performed and many throats and lungs were about to burst. The rally finished with a parade up town. P. S. we lost!

Glee Club

Our Glee Club is composed of boys. The purpose of the club is to promote good part-singing, and to give the boys an opportunity for voice development. It is also the desire of the club to give the boys a greater enjoyment and appreciation for good singing throughout life.

About one hundred Glee Club boys took part in the thirty-first annual Thanksgiving concert given jointly with the Choral Club this year. The concert was a great success. The president of the Glee Club was Bruce Andrews, and Ellis Bradford, treasurer. John Kelly led the Glee Club. Miss Bryant is adviser and director of the Glee Club. The organization is an old club, and has been successful ever since it was organized in 1898.

"Singing Along Together . . ."

Choral Club

The Choral Club is one of the oldest clubs in High School. It was organized in 1913, and is still just as successful as it was then. The purpose of the Choral Club is for picked singers to learn how to harmonize better with each other, and to receive more advanced training in good singing. Each year the Choral Club and Glee Club present a concert to you, Mother and Dad, and to all others interested in choral singing. Also, the Choral Club with the chorus, gave their annual Christmas Concert. Lots of the old, and some of the new, beautiful Christmas Carols were sung for the enjoyment of our students and parents. The club's adviser and director, Miss Bryant, spends most of her time in developing voices of the students. The officers of the club were Nancy Lee Clark, president, and Monna Heath, secretary.

"Music hath charms . . ."

Rob McIsaac

Orchestra

Another organization in existence is the orchestra, composed, this year, of approximately twenty high school students. The purpose of the organization is not only to provide an opportunity for members to learn music, but to give them a chance to enjoy playing together.

Compositions from many of the great composers are studied. Each year the orchestra, with a piano accompaniment, presents a concert. Selected members play for assemblies on special occasions. Miss Marsh, the teacher and conductor, believes that the group of boys and girls this year was the best she has ever had. The president of the orchestra was Stephen Weatherby. The other officers were Ruth Van Order, secretary; Joan Librarian; and Robert McIsaac, council representative.

Our Splendid Orchestra.

Band

Jim Horn

Everyone remembers the brilliant performance of our High School Band this fall, and was proud of it as it marched down the football field, led by an excellent drum major, Maurice Switzer, and three twirlers, Marion, Jerry Dean, and Bill Burgess. Playing for enthusiastic football fans is not the only purpose of the band. It plays, also, in summer concerts, and for many community activities. Last summer some members of the band were sent to Rochester, where they played in the All State Band. All except one played at a solo concert, so this speaks very highly of our band. Each year the band gives a large concert, presented last year on April 12. Cosline was elected president this year. The other officers were John, vice-president; Betty, secretary and treasurer; and Joe McConnell and David Fortuin, librarians. Mr. Latham is adviser and conductor of the band.

Our Community Is Proud of This Band.

Science Club

For those who are interested in studying the true facts about our universe, the Science Club is the club they should join. Here everything from dandelions to the fourth dimension is discussed. In the fall several good talks were given on current scientific subjects. Henry Perry talked on putting out forest fires by new chemical methods. Carlyle Stickler talked on "dry ice."

On Arbor Day the club planted ash trees in front of the school. The members of the club had their annual tea for the Parent-Teachers Association. The tea was held in the third floor faculty room.

As usual, the club sent Christmas cards and presents to patients at Biggs Memorial Hospital. The members also visited the hospital.

Henry Perry was president of the Science Club. The other officers were Dorothy Baker, vice-president; Mary Van De-Mark, treasurer; and Eleanor Strum, secretary.

Art Club

Bring your easel, palette, and brush along, and you'll learn where our artists throng. You are right! The Art Club is still creating! This fall the members spent their meeting time sketching from a posed model. This idea for sketching has seldom been tried before at Ithaca High. This year, however, so many students were interested, that the plan succeeded magnificently.

Under the careful supervision of Mrs. Baldwin, the faculty adviser, Bill Johanson, Don Jones, Anthony Longo, Wynn Ogle, Catherine Tupper, John Krist, and scores of others did some fine work.

Later on in the year, the artists started work on handcrafts, particularly the fine art of making belts.

The officers were Annabelle Slater, president; Carolyn Howe, vice-president; Rose Rinkcas, secretary; Betty Meade, treasurer; and Arthur Buckingham, scribe.

Wistful artists

Home Economics Club

This club should interest you, Mother! While we were enriching our personality, we were also increasing knowledge about the incidentals of the home at the meetings of the Home Economics Club. Miss Curtis, adviser, will be glad to tell you about our doings. The Home Economics Club has a large amount of money in their treasury now, as the result of a hot dog sale given at the Endicott-Ithaca High School football game.

Johns, Curtis, Carpenter,
Sullivan, Connors

*Future Husbands' woe.
Look at the birdie*

An original means of initiating new members was developed in the form of a tea by the Home Economics Club this year. The officers poured; the initiates received their tea and suspicious little cup cakes. In each cup cake were directions for stunts that the new girls were to perform.

Meetings were conducted by Velma Carpenter, president for the first term, and Betty Sullivan, second term president. The other officers were Lorraine Connors, secretary; Irma Carpenter, treasurer; and Ruth Johns, reporter.

F. T. A. Club

Future receivers of the apple

Middaugh, Davis, Karikka, Schneider

A new club that was just recognized by our General Council was Future Teachers of America. The club's ambition is to provide its members with an opportunity to learn about the requirements of the teaching profession and the opportunities offered by the profession. Already the club had a candy sale to increase the amount of money in its treasury. The club had many interesting, as well as educational meetings; such as a panel discussion on teaching, several speakers from Cornell University, and reports on books.

The meetings were conducted by Eliina Karikka, the club's president. The other officers were Betty Middaugh, vice-president; Gertrude Schneider, secretary, and Bill Davis, treasurer. Miss Besig deserves much credit for the success of the F. T. A. Club, for, as its adviser, she has spent much of her time in getting the future teachers interested.

Sports Club

The Sports Club's main purpose is to give the girls interested in sports an opportunity to participate in the various sports offered. To become eligible for membership, a girl must earn 40 points. These points are awarded when she has gone out for at least four sports.

A new athletic field for the girls, this year, provided a spot for a new game; it was Speedball. This is a game combining football, soccer and basketball. A great many girls went out for this sport. Bowling, however, was the most popular. Other sports included basketball, badminton, tennis, volleyball, and tumbling.

Officers for the past year were Frances Ward, president; Delores Mion, vice-president; Eileen Farley, secretary; Jeanette O'Brien, treasurer; Annabelle Slater, publicity manager; Dorothy Werner, manager of intramural sports and Gladys Thorpe, manager of industrial sports. Miss Helen Drake was the faculty adviser.

Thorpe Farley Slater Ward Drake O'Brien Mion

Future Farmers of America

One of the largest and most active clubs in our extra curriculum is the Future Farmers of America organization. Under the capable leadership of president John Conner, the club has carried on a busy program. Richard Blatchley, vice-president; John Cortwright, secretary; and John Scanlon, treasurer, have carried out their duties efficiently under the guidance of Mr. James Huxtable, the club adviser.

The club representatives did a lot of traveling about during the year. They made their annual trip to the judging contests at Delhi; they took field trips to study conditions in the raw; and they participated in the Farm and Home Week program at Cornell, to mention a few.

The members of the organization all are enrolled in the vocational arts courses in the regular school program. The club's activities add many facts to their regular school courses and have produced results. Many prizes have been won by the club members in the contests they entered. To top off one of their most successful years, the boys made merry at their annual "fun for all" banquet in June.

"E-I-E-I-O, and on his farm . . ."
More hard work.

Blatchley, Scanlon, Peters
Conner, Cortwright

Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais, one of the two French clubs in the school, is for the honor students in French. The meetings are conducted in French, which teaches and also puzzles us. Ably "parlez-vous"-ed by Dorothy Hardenburg, president, with the assistance of William Davis, vice-president, Ellina Karikka, secretary, Samuel Peters, treasurer, and the remaining members, Le Cercle Francais had an educational as well as an interesting season. In spring, Professor Pump- from Cornell gave an illustrated talk on life in France. At a later meeting, Mrs. Moran spoke on France.

Miss Miller, faculty adviser, helps us when we seem "stumped" with French words during the course of the meeting. Early in the fall a group of girl members of the club sang many songs in French.

MacGachen leads the class.

Davis, Peter, Karikka, Hardenburg, Miller.

"Tout le monde."

Le Rendez-Vous

All work and no play makes Jacques' day dull. Le Rendez-vous, believing thoroughly in the saying, does away with the usual routine of club undertakings.

Ellis Bradford was in charge when "les petits" again sold poppies for the American Legion. Nancy Blanche sold the most poppies, while Ada Robotnikoff brought in the most money.

The Women's Club at Cornell University, invited Le Rendez-vous to give its pantomime on Christmas customs. It was a successful program and the club was proud to present it before the men's Club.

This is Cyrano de Bergerac

Parlez-vous?

Meade, Kennard, Abrams, Blanche

All members worked enthusiastically for a marionette show. Marie and Nancy Blanche wrote scenes from the play "Cyrano de Bergerac". Alexander Laszlo and David Abrams made the stage.

The club was under the able leadership of Anne Kennard, president; Lawrence Abrams, vice-president; Betty Meade, secretary; Nancy Blanche, treasurer. Miss Welch was faculty adviser.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN AND WOMEN OF ITHACA

Ithacans of today are enjoying the heritage of work well done by generations of former citizens.

Hundreds of men and women are now active in civic affairs too, doing their part to make Ithaca an even better place in which to work and live.

The High School Class of 1940 will soon be assuming the leadership in that continuous task of making the future better than the past, better than the present.

We know that you will be ready and willing to assume your natural responsibility.
